

Location: Cleveland Street District, downtown Clearwater

Project Synopsis:

Sculpture360: Art in the Cleveland Street District is a temporary outdoor exhibition of public artwork and sculpture for the period of one year. Similar to other long-standing sculpture exhibitions such as the Sarasota Season of Sculpture, Sculpture360 aims to bring high-quality, vibrant, and engaging public artwork to the citizens and visitors of Clearwater.

Budget: $9,000.00

Selection Panel:

Jennifer Barbaro, Representative of the Public Art & Design Board
Amanda Thompson, Director of the CRA
Anne Fogarty-France, CRA representative and Downtown Manager
Anne Lopez, CRA representative
Lina Teixeira, DCMA President
Madai Gutierrez, PADB Liaison, and Public Art Specialist

Public Art & Design Board:

Jerri Menaul, Chair
Eric Sieler, Vice Chair
Karen Cunningham
Neale Stralow
Jennifer Barbaro
Michael Potts

Selection Process and Criteria:

The five-member Selection Panel reviewed proposed artworks from the artist qualifications received through the open Call to Artists. Artwork and artist credentials were evaluated on their artistic content, durability, originality, and other specific criteria outlined in the Call to Artists such as:

- Being vibrant, engaging and colorful
- Being a solid structure and able to “hold its own” against the visual activity of downtown
- Being iconic and serving as a visual anchor-point of the Cleveland Street District

Rationale for Selection:

The following artworks were chosen by the Selection Panel on the basis that they met and exceeded the qualifications for desired sculpture identified in the Call to Artists. Each artist is a qualified and active sculptor and has professional training in the arts, a lengthy public exhibition record, a number of successful public or private commissions, and/or a combination of these traits.
